

Wouldn't you like to go to NY at Christmas? A great trip for kids young and old, a great location to spend a few days. We will see a Broadway play (Wicked most requested), and see Christmas Spectacular at Radio City. We will also see (Lion King as long as we have at least 30 people to go). There are so many great things to see that this list will never be complete! We will be going to China Town, and eating in Little Italy, my mouth is drooling as I'm typing. We will go up in the Empire State Building for sure at night. We will go to the 911 memorial & museum most likely. We will go to St. John's the Divine Cathedral for sure and every Christian should see this great building that still isn't complete. We will eat at Katz deli one day, and walk down 5th Ave. see the tree at Rockefeller Center as well as the ice skating. We are looking at doing the NBC studio experience but will probably try to spend a great deal of time down in the financial district. We have been to the United Nations, Trump Plaza and saw Trump there. We will see Central Park, Grand Central Station, as much as time allows, along with Harlem. Each and every place we have been and plan to see are the places we have been requested to see in the past. There is also a good possibility that we will go to the Museum of Natural History. You know the place where everything comes to life at night? This is by far our favorite trip to go on and we would love to have you join us. Hotels have gone up on pricing, but I hope you will take some time and look up some other tours and do some comparisons, and bring your friends.
